Sponsor the Spinny Thing!

What's the 'Spinny Thing?'

It's the magical, mysterious whirling dervish that chooses the next storyteller in our online monthly Open Mic StorySlam. Every time we spin it, someone's story gets its moment in the spotlight—and you can get a little spotlight, too!

What do you get?

Your name, logo, or whatever your heart desires goes right on the Spinny Thing. Every time we give it a whirl, your sponsorship will literally spin across the screen before magically landing, along with our next storyteller's name.

Plus:

- We'll mention you every time the Spinny Thing is used.
- Your sponsorship will be mentioned in our show promotions leading up to the show including Facebook, Instagram, and Newsletters.
- Your brand becomes part of the show. Not tucked away on a sponsor page. Not buried in the fine print. Right there in the action!
- Your promotion will start on the ticketing page and carry on through the show itself - about a one-month window. Want to sponsor for multiple months? Sure, we can do that as well.
- If you'd like to give away swag, tickets, a book, or whatever you're promoting, we're happy to facilitate that as well.

Want to promote your business, your book, your upcoming storytelling festival, your next show? Great. Want to promote your favorite color? Your mom? Your dog? Yourself? We're flexible.

Sponsor the Spinny Thing and help keep the stories—and the spinner—spinning!

Introductory price is $75.00 for a one-month sponsorship, $125 for two consecutive months. If you jump on the Spinny Thing train now, this price will be good for one year. Want to sponsor the whole show? Let us know!

This is our first round of Spinny Thing sponsorships, so you'll be getting in on the ground floor of what could become a very prestigious position in the world of extremely unnecessary but delightful storytelling technology.
